Bob,

I want to again thank you for sponsoring the float trip for wounded warriors. Your generosity in support of this patriotic effort is heart-warming.

As you well know, floating the river provides a special environment where people can relax and quickly form lasting relationships. That is especially true for wounded warriors who are already prone to "landing with brother." I saw a lot of healing occur on the river and you enabled that to happen.

Thanks also to your guides, they were excellent.
